

MISS NEWBEC'S WEDDING STORY

Found Struggling in the East River at Midnight.

She Claims that a Man Deliberately Threw Her into the Water.

The Brooklyn police have a mystery on their hands to-day which they are endeavoring to solve.

A pretty seventeen-year-old girl was found struggling in the East River at the foot of Milton street, shortly before midnight last night, and when rescued she claimed she had been pushed overboard by a young man.

The girl is a pretty brunette. She gave her name as Kate Newbec, and claims to reside at 408 East Seventy-second street in this city.

At 11:40 last night, Watchman Harry James and Edward Maguire, who are in the employ of the American Manufacturing Company, which has its works at the corner of Noble and Oak streets, Brooklyn, were startled by hearing a scream for help. The voice sounded from the river.

Running down the pier at the foot of Milton street, they saw a young girl struggling in the water. The watchmen quickly obtained a boat and reached the girl as she was going down for the last time.

She was hysterical with excitement and fright. After the watchmen had succeeded in quieting her she told a most startling story.

"I was walking along the street this evening," said she, "when a young man came up and spoke to me. We got into conversation, and he suggested that we should take a walk down to the river."

We went down to the pier, and after some talk he pushed me off from the dock into the water. "Can you describe the man who you say threw you into the water?"

"He was a young man, with dark complexion and a slight black mustache. He wore a blue coat and a white shirt."

The case was reported to the police of the seventh precinct, and Detective Sergeant George Kelly was detailed to investigate the girl's story.

At 10:30 last night, a watchman in the employ of Mr. English, of West street and Greenpoint avenue, was found by the detective. Scolded for being drunk, he was taken to the police station, and the girl was found in the water and saw her pass by. She was alone and was walking alone.

The detective claim to have found several others who saw the girl alone, and they proceeded to disbelieve her story. They said that she either tried to end her life or fell on the dock accidentally. The girl was taken to St. Catherine's Hospital.

Mrs. Dora Salzer, of 710 Ninth avenue, was a prisoner in the Yorkville Police Court this morning on a charge of attempting suicide by taking Paris green.

No one appeared to press the charge, however, and she was released. The police officer, who was on duty at the time, told her that she was a very different woman. He says that her act was deliberate, intentional and threatened.

Mrs. Salzer is a merchant tailor, and he and his wife live in the rear of the house, which is on the second floor. They have been married ten years, but have no children. Mrs. Salzer told an EVENING WORLD reporter this morning that her wife was in the habit of drinking considerably, and that while her spirit was so much as to induce her to commit suicide.

This theory is that Almy has committed suicide. In support of this is quoted Almy's expression when Miss Warden rejected his suit, "I haven't anything to live for now."

The Connecticut River is near the scene of the tragedy, and many believe that after committing the terrible crime Almy drowned himself.

Aside from this, the only clue left at present which seems to have any possibility of favorable development is that which locates Almy in Canada. It has been wired here that a man answering his description was seen at Sherbrooke, Ont., and was en route for Montreal.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE, PORTER.

Brooklyn Says Census Bulletin 82 Is Either False or Foolish.

Comptroller Jackson Points Out Gross Injustices to His City.

Comptroller Theodore F. Jackson, of Brooklyn, this morning made a written statement calling attention to the misrepresentations or mistakes made by Supt. Robert P. Porter in Census Bulletin No. 82.

Mr. Jackson says: "Census bulletin 82 in its preface is stated to be a balanced statement showing in detail the receipts and expenditures for one year, of 100 principal and representative cities in the United States, compiled in each case mainly from the published reports of the representative cities in question."

"In every case it has been approved by a proper municipal officer and no objection made thereto."

"If by the last statement it is meant to be understood that the arrangement and condensation of the figures for the purposes of Bulletin No. 82 have been submitted to the Financial Department of this city for examination or correction the statement is not true."

"No such comparative or other statement, showing the per capita expenditures of this city, has ever been presented to the Department of Brooklyn."

"The blanks forwarded from the Census Bureau were in every case filled out and promptly returned, but nothing was received to indicate the purpose for which the statements were desired or the necessity of separating different items of city, county and State expenditures."

"The errors in the table, so far as Brooklyn is concerned, if not willful, have arisen from a lack of knowledge of our system of government and of the relations of the city government to the county and State expenditures."

"Yet, in the statement, records of the city of Brooklyn, the very first item under the heading 'Not ordinary taxes,' $1,121,375.75, includes the entire amount collected for city, county and State purposes, the total tax levy for the city for the entire year being only $8,240,420."

Mr. Jackson says the statement made by Mr. Porter that there has been deducted in Valparaiso from the ordinary expenditures of the city the amounts expended for public buildings, charities, water works or use of water, and that many cases the cost of improvements could not be separated from the expenses of running them, is a gross misstatement.

Finally, the Comptroller says that Porter's estimate of the administrative expenses as $17,346 per capita, on a basis of a population of 80,343, is false; it is really only $0.82.

IS ALMY DEAD IN THE RIVER? Theory that the Hanover Murderer Has Committed Suicide.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. HANOVER, N. H., July 22.—Though the feeling against the murderer of Christine Varnum is as deep to-day as it was yesterday the pursuit is being gradually relaxed in so far as it has been kept by volunteers.

Claude after clue has run down, only to find that there was no basis for the supposition that the murderer had been seen as reported, and no nothing promising to come from their efforts, men engaged in the search have begun to return to their own business affairs.

As disappointment after disappointment has come to the searchers, a theory at first thrown aside has been taken up again and grown in strength.

This theory is that Almy has committed suicide. In support of this is quoted Almy's expression when Miss Warden rejected his suit, "I haven't anything to live for now."

MORE MUTINY OF THE GUARDS

Queen's Soldiers Overworked During the Kaiser's Visit.

Wanted a Day Off and Got a Parade Order Instead.

LONDON, July 22.—Truth today prints a startling story of another mutiny in the British Army, the facts of which seem to have been kept quiet up to the present.

According to the story, this third serious mutiny among the guards during the past year or so occurred in the Second Battalion of the Coldstream Guards, whose Colonel is Gen. Hon. Sir A. F. Hardinge, K. C. B.

The second Battalion of this regiment has been quartered at Buckingham Palace, where it has been furnishing the guard of honor and incidentally, during the recent visit of the Emperor William of Germany to London, taking a prominent part in the parades, reviews and processions which were arranged in honor of the Imperial visitor.

Hundreds, it is stated, were made to march a considerable amount of extra duty, and after the departure of the Emperor the guards expected to be allowed at least a day free from guard mountings.

Instead of being granted the day off they were ordered to parade in full marching order. Then guards in every case were made to march in full marching order, and were made to march in full marching order.

The Coldstream's officers repaired to the company rooms and argued with the numerous privates, who finally consented to parade, but arriving upon the parade ground the behavior and bearing of the Coldstream's was so glaringly unbecomingly that they were marched back to barracks.

The officers there issued orders confining the men to barracks for these days as a punishment for their insubordinate conduct, and that ten senior privates should be placed under arrest with the view of trying them by court-martial.

No sooner did the main body of the excited guardsmen hear of this last order than twenty of them barricaded themselves in a room in the barracks and declined to come out until promised that the ten senior privates should not face any worse than their comrades.

A considerable time was spent in parlaying with the mutineers, and they were finally persuaded, on the ground that they would only make matters worse for themselves, to open the door and listen to their officers.

The mutinous Coldstream's were then addressed by Gen. Hardinge, who, by judiciously stroking the soldiers' backs, figuratively speaking, succeeded in quieting them down.

German and British Steamers Sunk, but no Lives Lost.

LONDON, July 22.—The German steamer Neko, bound from Hamburg for Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, collided with the British steamer St. Albans in the English Channel, and was sunk. The British steamer was badly damaged, but she sank. No lives were lost. The St. Albans was bound up the channel from Bilbao.

The British steamer Soudan, from Bonny, West Coast of Africa, for Liverpool, struck a rock off Taboa on July 10 and foundered. Her passengers, crew and mail are on board the British mail steamer Soudan, bound from the West Coast for Liverpool.

POINT AGAINST GLEASON. Justice Kavanagh Admits He Cannot Try the Mayor's Case.

When the case of Mayor Gleason and the Board of Health of Long Island City against Messrs. Nelson and Miller, for disturbing a meeting of the Board of Health, during which there was a free fight, was called this morning in Police Justice Kavanagh's court the opposition scored a big point against the Mayor.

Col. Fellows submitted Judge Garretton's opinion that Justice Kavanagh had jurisdiction only as a committing magistrate, and the Police Justice recognized his force and disposed of the cases by holding Nelson and Miller for the Grand Jury.

The same disposition was then made of the cases of Anselmi, Murray, Wilson, who were Nelson and Miller's companions.

It has been Gleason's aim to have the cases tried by Justice Kavanagh, who is credited with being his friend. The Citizens' Committee are much elated over the point gained for them by Col. Fellows, which they regard as a victory.

The big May was not present, to the disappointment of the spectators.

MR. MYERS'S WORD DISPUTED. Told that He Never Investigated the Tweed-Dinsmore Claim.

A lively tilt occurred between Comptroller Myers and Lawyer John H. Strahan at a meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment today, over the S. B. Dinsmore claim for printing and advertising during the Tweed regime.

The original claim was for $70,967.94, and the interest amounts to $100,000. Strahan is advertising in the Star-Keeper, a paper published at that time.

Comptroller Myers, to whom the claim had been referred, reported that he had taken testimony and discovered that the city had been plundered of $1,500,000 in one year, and that $145,000 of the amount was for alleged advertising.

Concerning the Dinsmore claim, he reported that he ascertained that much of the alleged advertising had not been inserted, more had been inserted without authority and much at exorbitant rates.

Only $24,011.75 of it had been published at legal rates, he said, and of this amount but $6,951.50 had been published by authority.
